Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame Class of 2013 to be Inducted Saturday Night

The Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame will induct its 9th class at the organization's annual induction and awards ceremony on Saturday, June 22, at 7 p.m. at the Roswell Cultural Arts Center.

The five inductees include:

- Ronald Bradley - one of the country's winningest high school basketball coaches
- Steve Lundquist - 1984 Olympic Gold Medal breaststroker
- Earl Mann - former President, GM and Owner of the Atlanta Crackers
- Dr. Homer Rice - former Georgia Tech athletic director
- Deion Sanders - former Atlanta Falcon and Atlanta Brave

The 2013 Star of the Year, Norcross High School, and the recipient of the 2013 Community Service Award, Georgia Tech Associate Athletic Director Wayne Hogan, will also be recognized.

General admission tickets can be purchased at the door Saturday night or by calling 770-394-3359. General admission tickets are $25. More information can be found on <http://www.facebook.com/atlantasportshalloffame>.

The Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame mission is to honor Atlanta sports heroes, remember great moments in Atlanta Sports history, and preserve the past from which future generations can learn and take pride. The Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame Foundation is a Georgia non-profit corporation and has a 501(c)(3) status with the IRS.
